HANGING FITS FRANKS CRIME, STATE INSISTS

Begin Closing Arguments
at Slayers' Trial.

different infections, but not many different features, only occasionally. A lesser crime may mean a lesser punishment, but that is not this case. The criminal by his acts determines what the legal punishment shall be. The punishment lower than a lifetime for fourteen years in the penitentiary applies only to lesser crimes.

"If this is not an aggravated, deliberate murder on the facts as they are before the court, if this is not a matter of the extreme type on the facts, then of course a lesser penalty can be invoked."

Crime Calls for Death.
He answered those two "ifs" with a "but."

"But, when, as here, the greatest turpitude, months of detailed planning, careful execution of every detail, a money motive, a kidnapping for ransom, the deliberate murder, the cruel blows of a sharp steel chisel, the gas-ging, the death and the hiding of the body all appear as they do in this case, the malice and deliberation take the crime out of the scale of lesser penalties and prescribe death."

"If this case does not fall within that penalty there has never been a case in Illinois that deserves death."

Analysis of Cases.
Now close on the heels of emotion comes the law, for it has never been far away. Mr. Marshall finishes his sentence thus:

"I am prepared to demonstrate that by an analysis of the cases."

"The statute demands, then, that the punishment shall be proportionate to the turpitude of the offense, and in this case that means only one thing, the extreme penalty provided by the law."

"The statute, it is true, ranges from 14 years to the death penalty, and the court has a duty to fix a penalty, then, proportionate to the turpitude. That is to say, to the depravity and the viciousness of the crime committed."

"In arriving at its decision, here the court must exercise discretion. Not a personal, not an arbitrary, not a willful discretion, but a judicial discretion—the application of the law to the existing facts."

"Twice over, under the statutes of the state, the death penalty is provided by law under these facts. And the state here now insists that any lesser penalty would violate any lesser penalty than the extreme penalty—would violate the spirit and the letter of the law."

"This judicial discretion, then, that the court is exercising, is defined to be sound judgment, guided by law. It is the giving effect to the will of the law, not to the will of the individual."

Turpitude of Offense.
"And so I repeat, that by judicial discretion is meant sound discretion guided by law, not an arbitrary discretion, never exercised for the purpose of giving effect to the will of the judge, always for the purpose of giving effect to the will of the legislature. Or, in other words, to the will of the law."

"The Supreme court of this state in passing upon the meaning of the statute that fixes punishment for murder from fourteen years to any term of years or life, of death, says that the punishment is to be proportionate to the turpitude of the offense."

Now comes a sequence of citations. The layman amuse themselves by speculating on the unpronounceable character of the names of so many murderers. Clarence Darrow and the Bachrach brothers, Benjamin and Walter, took notes of all page references. He did the judge.

Now he reviews what he has read. "So that from the early books down through the decisions of the courts, as late as the 24th Illinois, the rule prevails that under the statute, the design is that the punishment shall be proportionate to the turpitude of the offense. Now what is turpitude?"

Tom Marshall proceeds to tell just what it is. Dictionaries of the civilian; dictionaries of the lawyer; court decisions from the south, court decisions from the north; they all come into play. The general idea conveyed is that turpitude means baseness, villainy, depravity, and is closely connected with an "abandoned and malignant heart."

None Above the Law.
It needs no dictionary to define the prosecutor's next words:

"If your honor please," he begins, "this is a government of laws, and not of men. Here in this court all are on a perfect equality. There is no distinction between man and man here at the bar of justice. The poor and the rich, the learned and the unlearned all come here to receive what the law provides, if they are to be punished at all for crimes committed. This the law prescribes and I shall show it that no man is above the law, and none below its reach."

His right hand is going furiously now; his voice is getting louder.

Judge Part of Law.
"Every officer of the law is himself within the law, and the uniform enforcement of the law is the strength and security of the state. Legal situation, three things are involved in any decision of the one major question in the case. In determining punishment the court must consider, first, responsibility; second, mitigation, if any exists; and third, turpitude."

"These words run together. They may be said to be the key words of the situation."

Being precise, Mr. Marshall takes up the first word first.

"Responsibility, then, is a condition, a status. There are no grades or degrees. One is either responsible or one is not responsible. And in this case the responsibility is admitted by the pleas of guilty. It is proved by the confessions and by the evidence in the case. And it is repeatedly insisted upon by the assertions and arguments of their counsel."

"The responsibility being fixed, anything in mitigation, as well as evidence of aggravation, showing the turpitude of the crime, is to be considered by the court in the matter of arriving at the punishment in the case."

His Biggest Point.
Thomas Marshall points the forefinger of his right hand in the direction of the judicial bench, murmurs, quite conversationally, "Now, on this question of responsibility, keep this in mind," and then lays his biggest brick of the afternoon's work of laying a foundation.

"If Loeb and Leopold are responsible enough to receive a sentence to the penitentiary, they are by that same responsibility responsible enough for the extreme penalty."

A pause, not quite long enough for the drama of it, but adequate for the law of it; then—

"There is no distinction there in the matter of responsibility. The measure of responsibility is the same in either case. There is nothing to mitigate as to responsibility. Mitigation goes only to the fixing of the punishment."

Drives Home "Turpitude."
"They cannot be sent to the penitentiary unless they are legally responsible. And if they are legally responsible, their fate is determined not by weak mind or phantasy, delusions or mental disease, but by the turpitude of their crime."

"They are responsible or not responsible, that is the question. The turpitude of the crime is the question. They have no authority for the position they take to ask your honor to consider matter that goes to responsibility as a possible mitigation."

"They have confused responsibility with mitigation and have offered the testimony of alienists that goes only to responsibility in the pretense of mitigation."

"This testimony developed the depravity and vile life of the defendants, but nothing at all in mitigation. The turpitude of the offense still remains as it was, with no extenuation and no mitigation."

"It stands here an aggravated murder. A helpless, defenseless little boy, lured into this automobile by those god-damned minds, slain with the blows of this cold chisel."

"Any Mitigation Shown?"
"Any mitigation shown? Phantasies, hallucinations and delusions that go to responsibility only. And nothing whatever that affects the turpitude of the crime."

"But they are here before the court on a plea of guilty and they are sane beyond all reasonable doubt. It was a quarter past four now and past time for court adjournment. But Tom Marshall was so busy with those legal tricks of his that State's Attorney Crowe tried three times to catch his eye before asking for adjournment. This morning Mr. Marshall continued."

KROHN STANDS PAT
BY JOHN HERBICK.
"Any time they want a good doctor they send for you?" said State's Attorney Crowe.

"Any time they want to know just what he will testify to, yes," amended Attorney Clarence Darrow.

And Dr. William C. Krohn, state alienist and bone of all the contention, climbed down from the witness stand in Judge Caverly's court with an air half of reluctance, half of relief.

The withdrawal of the white haired, white mustached doctor marked the top of the pass in the trial of Nathan P. Leopold Jr. and Richard Loeb for the murder of 14 year old Robert Franks.

It marked the conclusion of the hearing of testimony and the beginning of the final arguments. And in itself it marked the end of one of the most vindictive sessions of cross-examination heard during the whole trial.

The concluding cross-examination of Dr. Krohn by Attorney Benjamin Bachrach follows:

MR. BACHRACH—Dr. Krohn, I asked you how many men and women you have examined, and I think you told me. Some large number.

THE COURT—30,000.

Q—Didn't make any mistake in any of them? A—I would not say. Of course I would like to suggest on that.

Q—Please don't. A—Well, this is important.

MR. BACHRACH—I object to what he is stating now.

Court Allows Answer.
THE COURT—If he wants to make a modification of a former question he can do so.

THE WITNESS—When you examine to determine the sanity or insanity you come to a direct conclusion. Where it is a matter of treatment your conclusions are direct, because you perhaps have the change of treatment. If you examine for the purpose of treating afterwards, then your conclusions are not final. But as to your diagnosis, it is final.

MR. BACHRACH—Q—You testified in the Geary case, didn't you? A—Yes, sir. That is the first, when he was tried as to his guilt or innocence.

Q—The issue there also was whether he was sane or insane? A—But there were two trials, sir.

Q—Did you answer my question or are you giving an explanation?

Court Again Intervenes.
THE COURT—O, no, he answered. He said there were two trials in the Geary case.

MR. BACHRACH—Q—Take the last one. Did you testify in the last one? A—No, sir.

Q—Did you testify in the second one?

A—The second was the last one.

Q—You expect to be paid for your services in this case? A—I do.

MR. BACHRACH—Did you make any arrangement with the state attorney for compensation for your services in this case? A—Just a general understanding that when I am called I am paid at the rate of $50 a day.

Q—And is that what you expect to receive for your services in this case? A—From what I have heard here of others getting, I think I ought to have a little more than $50 a day.

This was a point for the doctor for the defense alienists had testified they were receiving $250 a day.

Should Receive More.
Q—How much more? A—I think I ought to receive what any of the others is getting out of this.

Q—And you expect to get it? A—Well, I feel that I ought to.

Q—So you do expect to get it? Have you any hesitancy in answering that question, that you expect it? A—I have no hesitancy in telling you just how I feel.

Q—Please answer my question yes or no; do you expect to get $250 a day? A—I have no reason to expect any definite amount.

Q—You won't give me a better answer than that? A—That is a good answer.

Q—You won't give me a better answer? A—I will give you any answer you want. If you will tell me how to answer it, I will answer it the way you want me to.

THE COURT—I think he has answered. He says he expects to get as much as the others do.

Q—In how many cases have you testified for the state since Mr. Crowe has been state's attorney? A—I mean only on behalf of the state?

Q—Yes. A—I should say probably fifteen or sixteen cases, and there have been four where I examined for the state that I testified for the defense.

Q—Well, take in the year 1923.

MR. CROWE—Have you got his income tax there, Mr. Bachrach?

The defense was trying to show that the doctor did little else than examine persons for the state.

MR. BACHRACH—In some of these cases you appeared in court and in some you did not? A—The majority no.

Q—When Mr. Mackey Moore was state's attorney did you examine persons charged with murder through his administration? A—O, yes, more than through any other administration.

Q—How many times have you been before the industrial commission? A—Three or four times.

Q—Is that all? A—All that I—let me see. There was a case before Miss Reed, if I can just think of the arbitrator.

Q—Don't think aloud on it. Just tell me the number.

THE COURT—Oh, approximately. A—I should say five or six on the outside where a mental condition was involved, before the Industrial Board.

Q—How long have you been doing this? A—You mean since when? Q—Yes. A—Oh, I should say I was first called as a medical expert in any kind of a case about sixteen years—no, eighteen years ago.

Q—And you have kept up ever since, up to the present time? A—Well, I haven't kept it up. The lawyers have kept it up by calling me.

At the morning session Dr. Krohn declared his examination of Loeb and Leopold was ample to determine their sanity.

He was not to be shaken in his first statement, that he had found no evidence of mental disease in the two boys.

THE COURT—Oh, approximately. A—I should say five or six on the outside where a mental condition was involved, before the Industrial Board.

STRAW VOTE AT AURORA FAIR IS 60% FOR SMALL

Jones Proves Twice as Popular as Davis.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.
Aurora, Ill., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—On the face of the first straw vote for the governorship of Illinois, Gov. Small has a basis for his hope of reelection. It is not quite so large as that of President Coolidge in the Fox River Valley, but it is a substantial one and is exceedingly interesting.

This impression is based upon a poll of the voters to the Central States Exposition, which continues here until August 25. The poll gave Small 60 per cent of the vote. The canvass today was limited to the contest for governor, and the voters who participated have been divided between residence in Kane county and residence elsewhere in Illinois.

How Poll Stands.
The poll consists of 611 voters, of which 176 are residents of Kane county and 435 outside. It may be summarized as follows:

	Within Kane Co.	Outside Kane Co.	Total
Small (Rep.)	117	259	376
Jones (Dem.)	50	129	179
Davis (Rep.)	4	7	11
McDonald (Lab.)	4	55	59
Total	176	435	611

It is hoped that Judge Norman L. Jones will be here tomorrow for Democratic day; and Gov. Len Small is scheduled to make a personal appearance on Republican day, Thursday. It seemed advisable to test the governorship sentiment before either of the principal candidates arrive, and there fore before the campaign has started so far as the voters of this section of the state are concerned. Today was Shrine day at the fair, but the down-pour of rain compelled a deferring of that program until Friday.

Sufficient time and analysis force are not available today to analyze in detail the straw vote on the governorship outside of Kane county, but the vote within this county probably indicates in a general way the direction the wind is now blowing. In the straw voting within Kane county President Coolidge received more than 60 per cent of the ballots cast. Gov. Small's percentage is about 60. President Coolidge made his showing with three candidates in the ring who are considered of major caliber, while Gov. Small is credited with only one opponent, who may become serious.

What Past Indicates.
However, if the 60 per cent for Small in Kane county is maintained until election day, it is probably sufficient to win the state of Illinois. That is indicated by the relationship of the Republican vote in Kane county to that in the entire state. It has been the rule in presidential elections for the last thirty-two years that the Republican candidate for President must have 60 per cent of Kane county's electorate to succeed in the entire state.

The ratio between Kane county and state Republican vote on governor is different from that on candidates for the presidency, but there is nothing in Gov. Small's 60 per cent to indicate his defeat. Of course the number of votes cast in this first straw test in Kane county is small and a more extensive canvass may throw a different light on the fight.

How Figures Stack Up.
In the last state election Gov. Small received 72.64 per cent of the total votes cast for Republican and Democratic candidates for governor. That is comparable with 60 per cent for Small in the first limited test.

In 1914, Gov. Lowden was elected governor of Illinois. He received 73.33 per cent of the total Democratic and Republican ballots cast in Kane county. Charles H. Deneen was elected for the first time in 1918 and obtained 71.73 per cent of the Kane county vote. But he succeeded in being re-elected in 1922 with only 64 per cent of Kane county with him.

Congressman Richard Yates became governor of Illinois in 1926, when he received only 61.59 per cent of Kane county's vote. In 1928 John C. Tanner garnered in 70 per cent of Kane county's electorate. In 1932 John F. Aldridge was elected governor. He was a Democrat. Joseph W. Flue was the Republican candidate who lost. He received only 58.53 per cent of the votes in Kane county.

Some Hope for Jones.
There is also some encouragement in the canvass for Judge Norman L. Jones. The first test of Davis sentiment in Kane county showed that candidate for the presidency with only 11.71 per cent of ballots cast. Jones, on the other hand, received more than 26 per cent in his first trial heat. Proportionately Jones is twice as popular in Kane county as Davis, judging from the poll.

The last Democratic governor of Illinois, Edward F. Dunne, was elected in 1912 with a plurality of 124,481 votes. In Kane county Judge Dunne received 41.61 per cent of the vote. The preceding Democratic governor, Algrid, won by a plurality of 11,461 votes. In Kane county he received 11.46 per cent of the votes in Kane county. Jones' 26 per cent in Kane county does not promise success in Illinois, although it is two and a half times as good as Davis, presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket.

It is admitted frankly that more votes in Kane county on the contest for governor would give a better gauge with which to measure local sentiment. Outside of Kane county, Jones made a much better showing in comparison with Gov. Small, than inside the county.

N. Y. 'MILLIONAIRE' STEVEDORE PUTS UP $200,000 BAIL
New York, Aug. 19.—Frank Audette, widely known as the "millionaire stevedore," today turned $200,000 bail after surrendering on charges that he had diverted to his own use $111,000 of the estate of his brother, the late "steamship king," John Audette.

The fact that Lulu Audette, divorced wife of the "millionaire stevedore," accompanied him when he surrendered to Sheriff Harmon of Brooklyn, and added her signature to his bond for release, gave rise to reports, which were not denied, that the couple had engaged to marry.

U. S. GOVERNMENT BACKS SENATE'S DAUGHERTY CASE
Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The attempt of the senate Daugherty committee to inquire into the affairs of M. S. Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general, was upheld by the federal government today in docketing with the supreme court an appeal in the senate's unsuccessful contempt proceedings against Mr. Daugherty in Ohio.

A department of justice brief filed with the court declared the committee had ample constitutional authority for its action and had not sought, as held by the lower court, to exercise judicial functions.

The brief declared also that the committee had not encroached on any of the prerogatives of the house of representatives, under the provision placing the power to impeach in the hands of the house.

WRIGLEY OR PIEZ SLATED TO BOSS G. O. P. OF COUNTY

Seven Men Proposed for Chairmanship.

BY FRANK BUTZOW.

Seven men were recommended yesterday for the chairmanship of the Republican county committee which will meet at the campaign for the Republican county ticket. Gov. Small's envoys, in an effort to placate former Mayor Thompson and keep him in line for the governor, proposed "Big Bill" for chairman. Thompson has indicated that he does not want the job and will not permit Small to dodge the Lundin-Thompson "showdown."

The envoys to the Republican county peace conference met at Republican national headquarters in the office of Secretary Roy O. West, one of the three representatives of the Deneen group. Thomas J. Healy is another Deneen man, but their colleague has not been picked.

Members of "Big Nine."

Each of the three major factions will have three members of the executive committee, which will have general charge of the campaign. Here are the other members of the "big nine": Cowie-Barrett-Brundage; Wm. Charles V. Barrett, Homer K. Galpin, and Leonard A. Brundage.

Small faction—Francis P. Brady, state tax commissioner Percy B. Coffin, and Edward H. Wright, Negro member of the Illinois commerce commission.

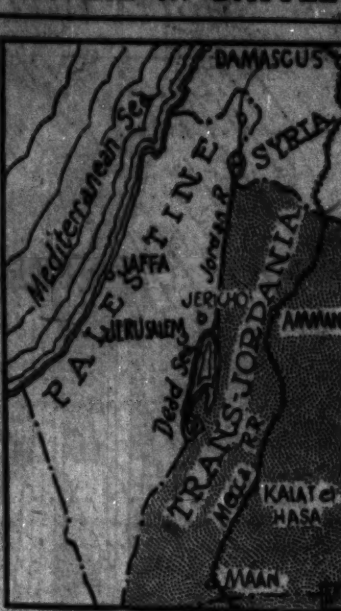

Suggested for Chairman.

The chairmanship of the campaign committee was the leading subject at yesterday's meeting. The conference broke up without a choice and to give each group more time to consider. Besides Mr. Thompson, who was proposed only as a gesture by the Small representatives, these men were discussed: James A. Patten, the wheat king; William Wrigley Jr., George F. Harding, former state senator and city controller under Thompson; former Congressman George Edmund Foss; Maj. Gen. Milton J. Foreman, and Charles Piez, former member of the U. S. shipping board and general manager of the Link Belt company.

Favor Piez or Wrigley.

The conference yesterday it is understood took a trend towards Piez or Wrigley. It was pretty generally agreed that the only way to have harmony was to select a campaign boss who has not been closely identified with any of the factions. Mr. Wrigley appeared to be fit pretty well. Mr. Thompson also is one of Wrigley's admirers. Mr. Piez, who was proposed by the Deneen group, is understood to be more satisfactory to the others than any of the Deneen proposals, which included Patten, Foss and Foreman.

300 DIE IN BATTLE

JEDDAH, Arabia, Aug. 18.—[By the Associated Press.] Fighting took place yesterday between the Wahabites and government forces in Trans-Jordan, according to news which reached here today.

The Wahabites attacked and occupied several towns, including Tarash. Then the government forces, under command of Khalaf Eltal and Arif, made a counter attack and drove the invaders out of Tarash.

The government forces, assisted by local tribesmen, killed 300 Wahabites, took many prisoners, and captured a number of camels and rifles.

[Special fighting between Trans-Jordanian troops and the Wahabites has taken place at various times during the last two years. The territory is governed by Emir Abdullah, second son of King Hussein of the Hedjaz, an elder brother of King Faisal of Mesopotamia.]

The political status of the country has not yet been settled, although it falls within the Palestine mandate and there has been discussion of a proposed merger with Palestine.

FIELD EXPLORER BACK FROM CHILE WITH "JINX BIRD"

Gophers big as tomatoes and giant toads are among the strange animals Colin Sanborn has brought back to the Field museum after thirteen months spent in the deserts of Chile.

Among the lakes 15,000 feet above sea level, that are only salt marshes with a fringe of coarse grass, Sanborn found ducks and geese like North American geese, but much larger. He found a new bird, unknown to science, which is regarded with superstition awe by the natives. It is a little brown bird, with a tall standing straight up in the air, and if the bird lights on the right hand of the road at the beginning of a journey, the Chilean Indians go on their way rejoicing. But if the bird lights on the left hand, they turn about and begin the journey next day.

RUSSIAN TROOPS KILL 5 AS MOB BEGGS FOR FOOD

BY DONALD DAY.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] RIGA, Latvia, Aug. 19.—Five were killed and twenty wounded when the Russian Cheka troops fired on a mob of 3,000 unemployed at Saratov. The Moscow Pravda reports that the paraders carried placards demanding that the government grant rations until the factories reopened.

According to Soviet newspapers arriving in Riga, the Russian cities are again gripped by a serious food shortage. Demonstrations demanding a reversal of the ration system, discontinued in 1921, are occurring in many cities.

According to information from Baltic officials, who have just arrived from Moscow, the ration system probably will be reinstated in October, when the huge mass of unemployed in the Russian cities will face actual starvation.

Commissioner of Interior Trade Lashava, writing in the Moscow Economic Life, blames M. Krasin, commissar of foreign trade, for making an announcement that Russia will export 2,500,000 tons of wheat and rye before the complete crop reports had been received.

M. Lashava reports that the crop failure has affected two-thirds of the grain growing districts in Russia and that exports must be radically curtailed if Russia intends to feed itself this coming winter. This should prove welcome news to American farmers, whom the Bolsheviks undersold in Europe a year ago.

Mexico Given Invitation to Join League of Nations

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.] Mexico City, Aug. 19.—It was unofficially announced today that Mexico has been invited to join the league of nations.

SEES ARMS PACT AS BRITISH BLOW AT U. S. SHIPPING

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 19.—Great Britain dominates the league of nations and the commerce of the world and inspired the Washington conference for limitation of armaments to prevent the United States from having sufficiently strong a navy to protect its merchant marine which could compete with that of England, said Rear Admiral W. L. Rodgers, U. S. N., retired, in a statement today at the Institute of Politics.

"Our limitation of armaments treaty of three years ago played into England's hands, and indeed she originated it," said the admiral.

"It was the competition of our merchant fleet with that of Great Britain which she hoped indirectly to limit by direct action on our navy. It is not to be thought that she was contemplating rivalry of the navies as the primary issue."

In regard to the prospective international loan to Germany it is alleged the American bankers are waiting for England to take the initiative. If such is the case let us reflect how far it may be explained by the ability of England to control the commerce by which Germany will pay her reparations and thus make American credit the tool of British shipping.

FAKE LIQUOR LABEL MAKER'S BOND $25,000

United States Commissioner Henry C. Butler yesterday placed the bond of Frank Juschinsky, wealthy revenue stamp counterfeiter, at $25,000 and set the date of his hearing for Aug. 25.

The commissioner also held Irving Klein, a wood engraver and agent for a number of electrotyping concerns. His bond was fixed at $10,000. It is charged that Klein had a part in the manufacture of forty-eight strip stamp plates.

McCOY INDICTED FOR MURDER; HE ACTS BADLY NOW

BY GEORGE SHAFER.
(Picture on back page.)

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—The grand jury this evening indicted Norman McCoy, "Kid McCoy," on a charge of murder in connection with the mysterious shooting of Mrs. Theresa More, wealthy divorcee, whose body was found early last Wednesday morning in the apartment where they had resided as man and wife.

During the morning's testimony, word came from the city jail that the kid had either become violently enraged or was shamming an insanity outburst which would constitute the basis for his defense if he were indicted.

When jail officials went to his cell this morning they were astonished to find McCoy practicing to get into his cell, and standing at the top of his lungs, and shouting words of paper to the bars of his cell.

Reason for His Outburst.
When he spoke the jailer he cried out: "I'm making a trap to catch that rat More! His spirit tried to get in here all night, but I kept it out. Theresa's ghost visited me and told me we would soon be reunited, and that I would soon be out of here."

McCoy had been out of a place of his own and constructed a huge club. He did not offer to harm anybody, but caved about and rent the air with piercing cries.

The three aliases who examined him yesterday were hurried to the jail and after a brief examination are said to have reported that the wily old fighter was feigning madness.

Two Other Indictments.
The grand jury also returned indictments for assault with intent to commit murder and for robbery, these counts connecting him with the weird incidents of his rampage, when he shot two men and a woman and held up six persons.

The grand jury evidently was not impressed sufficiently to take action by the story told by Mrs. Eva Martin, who occupies an apartment underneath the one used by McCoy for his clandestine love affair. Mrs. Martin is said to have positively identified Albert A. More, former husband of the slain woman, as one of two men she saw running from the building following a quarrel and the shooting upstairs.

The second jury of fifteen men and four women merely directed that More be kept under surveillance.

New Type of Street Lights Around City Hall

Eighteen modern street lights—a type which Commissioner of Gas and Electricity John Miller hopes may become standard for the loop—were placed in operation around the city hall and county buildings last night. Each post supports two brackets with 1,000 candle power lamps and sparkling "ripple glass" globes.

JUDGE RIVETS OIL MAN'S MARRIAGE CHAINS TIGHTER

NYACK, N. Y., Aug. 18.—James McVickar, wealthy oil man, and his wife, who was the widow of William Dittson, Philadelphia saw manufacturer, remain married today by decree of Supreme Court Justice Tompkins, who wrote the concluding chapter of their involved divorce proceedings.

Justice Tompkins, in a decision in which he accused the McVickars of having acted in collusion to obtain Mrs. McVickar's divorce, which she later caused to be invalidated, today denied the oil man's petition to again validate the decree.

McVickar, whose widowhood brought her a fortune of $7,500,000, was secretly married to the oil man in Jersey City in December, 1922. It was not long after that their friends in New York and Philadelphia society learned that Mrs. McVickar had taken up quarters at the St. Regis hotel and that her husband was making his home at one his many clubs.

She filed a divorce action here last April 27, an unnamed co-respondent figuring in the papers. On May 7, after a brief trial in which it later appeared that but one witness testified, an interlocutory decree was entered in her favor.

On July 11, less than a month before her final decree was due, Mrs. McVickar again appeared before Justice Tompkins and petitioned him to invalidate the interlocutory decree, pleading that she preferred to remain married to bearing the stigma of divorce. Her petition was granted July 25.

Decides He Wants Wife.
On Aug. 18, McVickar asked Justice Tompkins to reconsider the invalidation of the decree and retortals him in his briefs held role of a divorced man. It was this petition that the court denied today.

Mrs. McVickar is the mother of Mrs. John Wansmaker Jr.

YOU may be one of the large number of people who have been into Scholle's during the sale now in progress. There have been a lot of them. There must be a reason.

If you have not been in, you may be interested in knowing why so many people always look to us for help when it comes to buying furniture for their homes. We'd like to tell you.

It's easy enough to buy just furniture; but it's a difficult job to know just how much satisfaction and real service you're going to get out of it; because the average person really knows very little about furniture quality; how it's made, what it's made of, and how long it will last.

You take no chance when you buy from us. If there's any chance taken, we take it. We want to help you get the right thing; we're glad to give you advice and the full benefit of our knowledge of furniture. If we make a mistake, and you find that you are not perfectly satisfied with anything that you get from us, we don't want you to keep it. We want to come and get it; give you back your money, or help you find something else here.

Right now during our sale the values we're offering are exceptional; prices are very low. Everything here is new, Scholle-quality, and bears our regular guarantee of satisfaction.

The partial list of bargains below may contain something that interests you. Some of them are single pieces; no duplicates.

CLUMSY MAN

Elmer Hears 'Em Tip News to Charlie

And Over the Air Comes Dances' "I Accept."

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

There was something of the romantic about this evening's drama. Wonder if we can depict some of that romance in this half column?

While listening to a program from WQJ at about 7:40 the announcer suddenly stated that they were signing off for the broadcast of the Gen. Dawes notification ceremonies. A second or so later, with the power coming from WMAQ, Announcer Whitney made a few remarks, then stated, "We are turning you over to the line to Evans."

At about 7:45 an announcer with a remarkably distinct voice said, "Good evening, ladies and gentlemen. This is Graham McNamee, speaking direct from the home of Gen. Charles G. Dawes, Evanston, Ill. This is station WMAQ, New York; WCAP, Washington, D. C., and so on—fourteen total."

At 7:53... voices mentioning Dawes' name... "ladies' voices, faintly... a bang... sounding like a phonograph's flashlight... in the distance, band playing "The Star-Spangled Banner"... applause.

At 8:01 the voice of Chairman William M. Butler... "Before we proceed with the notification speech I desire to present to you one of our oldest, one of our most revered republicans, the Hon. Joseph G. Cannon... 'Uncle Joe'."

Good for you, Uncle Joe. You want to live as long as Gen. Dawes does; we want to live as long as both you and Gen. Dawes!

While listening to the notification speech of Albert W. Jefferson, there crept into my receiver the faintest tones of a violin. Investigating, found it was KTW, Gounod's lovely "Ave Marie," and the artist, Henrietta Nolan. "Mighty Love" a Rose, by Nevin, followed.

Similarly, and with all due respect, while Gen. Dawes was talking I listened to Polly Willis, that remarkable soprano at KTW, singing "By the Waters of Minnesota" (that's American), and "The Winds of the South" (that's American).

Let's close with the opening two sentences by Gen. Dawes: "Mr. Chairman, members of the committee, ladies and gentlemen, I accept the nomination of the Republican party for the office of Vice President."

WELD FOR WOMAN'S MURDER. George Thomas, colored, who is now recovering from bullet wounds at the State hospital, was held to the grand jury to a murder charge yesterday at the funeral of his wife, Mrs. Sutter, who was shot two weeks ago in her home at 4227 Palmer street.

STRONG statement, to be sure. But Sutter Basin, California, is a land that cannot be accurately described except by strong statements. Those who have seen Sutter Basin and the phenomenal crops that are produced there, frankly admit that the actual truth about this land is far beyond expectations.

A Great Achievement Sutter Basin is unique in the history of American agriculture. It represents an engineering achievement that is an outstanding credit to agricultural vision and enterprise. A few years ago this tract of 45,000 acres of fertile river-bottom soil was under water approximately half of each year. Now it is under cultivation—some of it has been for seven years—producing record yields of all the leading crops grown commercially in the Great Valley of California. Peaches, pears, apricots, grapes, apples, oranges, tomatoes, sugar beets, alfalfa—all of these and many other crops, being highly profitable returns. This land is also ideally suited to dairy farming, poultry raising, and cattle breeding.

Soil Twenty Feet Deep Sutter Basin soil consists of alluvial silt with accumulations of cement, deposited by the Sacramento and Feather rivers in the great fork where these two rivers join together. In many places this deposit is so fast deep. The soil is very easily worked; is absolutely uniform; and the contour of the land is almost as level as a floor. A complex irrigation system, with water delivered to every farm, and an equally complete drainage system, are factors that, combined with the remarkably rich soil, insure abundant yields at all times.

Opportunity for Everyone Unmatched opportunity exists here for the fruit grower, truck farmer, dairyman, cattle breeder, and poultry man, with ready markets for all products conveniently reached by rail, water or express highways direct from Sutter Basin.

If you are in position to make a reasonable initial investment, and are a hunter, there is a place for you in Sutter Basin—where the soil yields more and the home returns more. Join the investment that will leave you on an inspection trip of Sutter Basin. Call, please, or mail the coupon for full particulars.

Plays Over W-G-N

Radio listeners will be afforded an unusual treat this afternoon. The Winnipeg Citadel band, touring the United States under the direction of Bandmaster Merritt, will give a special program over W-G-N (formerly WDAP). The Citadel band is at the Drake hotel.

The concert will begin at 2:30 p. m. and will last an hour.

The Citadel band is famed throughout Canada and is receiving an enthusiastic reception on its concert tour through this country.

One of the features of the 2:30 p. m. hour program will be Indian chants and dances played by Miss Mildred E. Studabaker, pianist of Whiting, Ind.

Miss Studabaker has devoted several years to the study of Indian music and her numbers will be unusual and interesting.

Others on the 2:30 hour program will be Ballard, Agard, tenor, and Caroline Gardella, soprano.

Bert Davis and Jack Chapman's orchestra will provide the entertainment at the 1:30 hour program.

STROKE FATAL TO SAMUEL WALKER, NOTED PHYSICIAN

Death Comes at His Lake Forest Home.

Dr. Samuel Johnson Walker, one of the widely known medical men of this city, died yesterday following a stroke of paralysis in his Lake Forest home.

The doctor was born in Covington, Ky., on Nov. 19, 1857. His parents brought him to Chicago in 1873 and he has resided here until a few years ago, when he became a resident of the north shore suburb.

Dr. Walker studied medicine at Northwestern university for several years and then took a two year post-graduate course in Europe. On May 8, 1894, he married Bertha K. Smith in Philadelphia. They had two children, Samuel J. Jr. and Helen Louise.

During the war both father and son saw active service in the army. Dr. Walker was promoted to major and is credited with stemming the typhus epidemic in Macedonia. The doctor's son was an aviator.

Dr. Walker began practicing medicine in Chicago in 1889. He became a specialist in children's diseases. At various times he was attached to the staffs of the Chicago Polyclinic, Passavant and St. Vincent's hospitals.

Funeral Plans Not Made. He was a member of the Chicago University, and the University club. Funeral arrangements will be made later.

WOMAN FALLS THREE STORIES. Mrs. Eric May Harbunda, 25 years old, 118 West Ontario street, fell out of a window in her third floor flat last evening. She fell a fractured skull and possible internal injuries.

ENDS LIFE IN PARLOR OF HIS HOME. John McCarthy, 54 years old, 2765 West Lake street, ended his life with a bullet which he shot in the parlor of his home while his wife and daughter were in the kitchen.

HANDS OF DEATH

The hands of the clock indicate the number of deaths by autos, guns, and moonblow in Cook county since Jan. 1.

DEATH OF GIRL RAISES COUNTY AUTO TOLL TO 394

With the death yesterday of Ellen Long, 7 years old, 3111 Sheffield avenue, an automobile victim, the county's motor death toll since Jan. 1 was raised to 394. The girl was struck on Aug. 8 by an automobile driven by Everett Nelson, who has been ordered to appear at the inquest.

Ten days' imprisonment in the jail and a $350 fine was the penalty imposed by Judge Philip J. Finnegan yesterday upon Joseph Lennon, 5711 Woodlawn avenue, a university student. Lennon drove an automobile which crashed into a taxi.

William G. Parr of Chicago was held in Michigan City last night on a charge of manslaughter following an inquest into the death of James Bozaris, 630 West 9th street, Chicago. He was killed in a collision of Parr's automobile and the one in which he was riding.

John McCarthy, 54 years old, 2765 West Lake street, ended his life with a bullet which he shot in the parlor of his home while his wife and daughter were in the kitchen.

MRS. HELLER TO JOIN HUSBAND IN GORILLA HUNT

Mrs. Heller, wife of Edmund Heller, assistant curator of the Field Museum, now with an expedition in Africa in search of new specimens, will herself soon be engaged in chasing the wily gorilla and the elusive okapi deep in the Belgian Congo, she announced yesterday at her home at 188 East Marquette road.

I have just received a cable message from my husband requesting that I join him immediately," Mrs. Heller said. "I will leave Chicago on Aug. 30 and go by way of Antwerp and Brussels, meeting Mr. Heller at Rutesch, a point northeast of Lake Kivu. It is more than a two months' journey from Chicago."

Mrs. Heller, who is versed in wild animal photography, expects to be a considerable assistance to her husband. She said the main purpose of the expedition is to procure specimens of the large upland gorilla.

"Million Dollar Bandit"
Trust Gets $10,000 Silk
Members of the "million dollar" burglar trust made another raid yesterday when nine masked men held up and robbed Robert Lavine, owner of the New York Silk company, 3348 N. Paulina street, and escaped with $10,000 worth of silk. According to Lavine the men wore smoked glasses with handkerchiefs around their faces. All carried revolvers. After looking up Mr. Lavine, the robbers piled the silk in a large truck and drove away.

WOMAN ANNOTATED FINE.
George Tibbs, aged 27, 225 E. Irving street, was fined $200 at Sheffield Avenue court yesterday for annoying women by peering through the window into their bedrooms.

TOT IN COURT
SPURNS MOTHER
FOR FOSTER KIN
In a bit of court drama, before County Judge Edmund K. Jarocki yesterday, little Vera "Patsy" McCarthy told the judge that Mrs. John L. Burnett, 2974 Ellis avenue, her foster parent, was "mother, dear," and that Mrs. Alma McCarthy, her real mother, was just "Alma."

Mrs. Burnett, from whom Mrs. McCarthy seeks custody of her 3 year old baby, on the stand, entered a vehement denial to the "wild charges" that she had tried to kidnap "Patsy." Mrs. Burnett said she had taken in the child when it was sickly and nurtured it back to health.

The hearing, which is expected to be extended over a week, will be resumed today.

CUBS AND BRAVES TO PLAY DOUBLE HEADER TODAY

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

Barring another deluge such as descended on the Cubs' playground yesterday, Bill Killebrew's third place Braves and the humble Braves will get together this afternoon in a bargain bill scheduled to start at 1:30 p. m.

Had headlines been possible yesterday Manager Bill would have employed "Rip" Wheeler, the Texas League recruit, on the mound so it is likely that this fellow will engage in one of the two affairs today.

The pitching selection for the other half of the program is a matter of doubt but it is not giving the boys any worry as he has several men ready for action. The choice probably will be between Vic Keen and Tony Kaufmann.

Robins Due Tomorrow

Today's appearance will be the Braves' final showing of the year in these parts and tomorrow the Brooklyn Robins, who have won their third place money, will pull in for a three game set.

The first of the tilts with the Robins will be over an entertainment for "Rube" Ehrhart, former local semi-pro, who is a member of Uncle Rube's club staff. A flock of Robins' admirers are coming in from South Chicago to pay their respects and probably will present their idol with a traveling bag or some such useful item.

Alex About Ready

Grover Alexander who has been out of action since late in June because of a fractured wrist is about ready to get himself back into shape. The wrist appears as good as ever but after the long layoff Alex will have to go through another training stage and it probably will be ten days or two weeks before he'll be able to put his ancient but valuable arm to the test.

Alex got started again he will be available for the Cubs' first eastern trip next month and his presence may be the means of keeping them in third place where they will take down some of the world's series receipts.

ORIOLES CRUSH WHITE SOX IN 9 TO 3 COMBAT

Baltimore, Md., Aug. 19. (Special.)—Another beating was imposed upon the obnoxious White Sox today, but the tenth successive defeat won't count in the official records. The Sox were decided to beat in the city of monuments just for a dash of batting practice, while en route from New York to Washington, and the defeat was the result.

While striving for the said practice, fourteen Fast Hoes were fanned by "Lefty" Grover in the early innings and on the Orioles' international league champs for five consecutive sessions, to an easy 9 to 3 victory.

The Sox departed for Washington after the game, where they will tomorrow, incidentally to facing the Senators Thursday.

BROWN'S HOMER WINS FOR DODGERS, 4 TO 3

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 19.—Brown's home run with one man on base decided a hard fought game here today, enabling Brooklyn to win the second of a three game series from Pittsburgh, 4 to 3.

Danny Vance, who has not been defeated by the Pirates in two years, was on the mound for the visitors and had a trifle the better of with Cooper, allowing seven hits, while Pittsburgh's star southpaw was touched for eleven safeties. With the score a tie, 1 to 1, Vance weakened in the sixth and the Pirates took the lead by scoring two runs on a double, two singles, and a sacrifice.

Mitchell started off Brooklyn's half of the eighth with a two bagger and scored when Wheat singled. Fournier forced Wheat and scored when Brown hit the ball over the left field fence. Cooper had two strikes and three balls on Brown when the latter hit for the circuit.

It was Vance's twenty-first victory of the season. Score:

CHAMPS RACE FOR CROWN AT ROBY SUNDAY

CHICAGO. Woodbury and Henry Talamont, leading long distance auto race pilots, will compete for the fifty mile western dirt track championship at Roby speedway Sunday.

Both are experienced in fifty mile races. Woodbury won the Roby title in 1923 and Talamont the same event in 1922. Last week at Crown Point the two battled all the way in the twenty mile final, Woodbury winning by a small margin.

Ed Canton of Detroit and Earl Warwick of Covington, Ind., have entered. Canton drives a rebuilt Ford and Warwick a Chevrolet. Both have broken records on other tracks. The fifty mile record is 45:24, made by Woodbury last year.

Reds to Protest Giants' Win; Claim Ump Wrong

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 19.—A protest of today's Cincinnati-New York ball game, based on a decision by Umpire Fournier, will be filed, Manager Jack Hendricks of the Reds said tonight. Travis Jackson, Giant infielder, hit a ball over third base which Fournier declared foul. The Reds objected, and Fournier appealed to Umpire McCormick, who was working at third base. McCormick called it a fair ball.

St. Joseph Gives Warning Club May Quit Western

St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 19.—The owners of the St. Joseph Western league baseball club today served notice that unless there is a considerable increase in patronage at the home games, an offer for the transfer of the team and franchise will be accepted before the close of the season. Notwithstanding the team has been in the first division virtually all season, the owners claim that they have been losing money.

Pritchard, Former Eureka Sports Head, Goes to Hiram

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 19.—(Special.)—George H. Pritchard, for a number of years athletic director at Eureka college, where he played a leading part in Little Nineteen activities, has resigned as director at Drury college, Springfield, Mo., to accept a similar post at Hiram college at Hiram, O.

CANTON NOW MIDWEST LEAGUE ROAD TEAM

Canton of the Midwest Baseball league will finish the season as a traveling club. This move practically was decided on at Monday's meeting of the league managers at the Planters hotel, but delay in the announcement was necessary to give Manager Harry Myers time to wind up certain financial arrangements he had with the backers of the club in the Ohio city.

From all accounts there was a difference of opinion among some of the business men of Canton back of the baseball team and sponsors of the professional football team which has represented that city for several years regarding the financing of the diamond outfit and when the gridiron franchise was sold to Cleveland, interest in the baseball team seemed to wane, the fans declaring that if they couldn't have football, they wouldn't be very keen about supporting baseball. Then backing of the baseball team was withdrawn.

Tough Outlook for Myers. This was the situation that faced Manager Myers, who has been unsuccessful in his efforts to give them a winner. In addition to managing the club, he has done all the clerical work and many other duties that should have been placed in outside hands in order that he might give his full attention to the playing of the team. Also he has sunk quite a bit of his own money in the team.

At the Monday meeting, Myers laid his cards on the table, explained just what he was up against and what it would be necessary for the league to do if it cared to continue the Canton team in the circuit.

League to the Rescue. The league was prompt to come to the rescue of Myers. It was decided that the team should become a traveler and arrangements to complete that move immediately were made.

The schedule is being revamped to take care of this new order of things and it is believed there will be no let up in interest in the league. Where the Canton team will be placed next year remains to be decided.

ITALIANS BOOST ROMANO-GARDINI MAT TITLE MATCH

Local Italian wrestling enthusiasts are pulling hard for a match between their two leading heavyweight title champions, Mike Romano and Renato Gardini, and when the latter appears at the Star & Garter Friday night against Andres Costanzo, the Spaniard, a delegation of his countrymen will be on hand to lay the proposition before him to sign up for a test with Romano, the victor to be recognized as the bona fide champion of all the Italian grapplers.

Gardini, however, is up against no easy game in the Spaniard, if reports of the latter's prowess are true, and it is not a certainty he will come out victor in the clash. In such an event, the ardor of Gardini's followers will cool considerably.

NOTES OF THE BOXERS

Frank Clark, manager of Charley Glaser, is back in town after a month's vacation in Wisconsin. Frank wants Glaser included in Mullen's featherweight elimination trials and Charley may be on the next card.

Howard Carr, the East Chicago promoter, is planning to round up a show on August 25, after a couple of setbacks. Carr believes an attractive card will fill his new arena.

CHICAGO LEAGUE GAMES

Following are games scheduled in the Chicago league today: At 2 o'clock, Cubs at White Sox; at 3 o'clock, Cardinals at Pirates; at 4 o'clock, Giants at Dodgers; at 5 o'clock, Athletics at Yankees.

HAWTHORNE MUD
SOFT PICKING FOR RED WINGFIELD

BY FRENCH LANE.

The blue silks of Mrs. A. Swank of Baltimore were carried to victory in the feature race at Hawthorne yesterday by whimsical old Red Wingfield.

It was the McVicker's Theatre handicap that he captured and he did it only half trying by ten lengths. Old Red was the one the talent had set the works in on during the running of a card decided under the most disagreeable conditions of the long Hawthorne season. It rained so much during the morning and early hours of the afternoon that boat racing would have been about as entertaining as the thoroughbred sport.

But while the running course was a sea of water and sloppy mud, old Red slipped around the long mile and a sixteenth trip in 1:59.54, indicating that there was still some footing underneath. The only horse in the race that gave him any kind of a struggle was Billy Star, but try as Billy did for the first three quarters, he was routed out at the head of the stretch and just managed to take the place money away from Ethel Clayton.

Big Day for Jockey Stitts. The one bright spot during the afternoon, except for Red's sparkling performance, was the racing feats of Hawthorne's newest jockey star, Harry Stitts. This young man, who came back from Saratoga on Monday and piloted three winners home, came right back yesterday and scored two more triumphs and finished third, with the other three mounts he accepted during the day.

He was in the pilot house when Wingfield captured the day's feature and also brought 10-year-old Cheer Leader to life in the fifth and won easily, beating out Great Lady by a fairly comfortable margin at the wire, with Kutya running third.

One of the hottest legs of the afternoon turned up in this race in the shape of H. C. Koles's Titch, but his showing was a sad one, Pickens never being able to get him going in good stride.

Hawthorne's regulars were on hand despite the changed weather conditions which cut deep into the fields by withdrawals of horses. The sport was about as good as could be expected under the conditions and the fact that a number of favorites triumphed drove away the gloom among the players.

Upset in First Race. The Key Spence trained Star Sweep or was made the favorite in the opener, but the best he could get was third money. Try Again, the winner, and the long shot Pilgrimage were much the best and the contest was even this pair from start to finish. Tally kept the winner close to the rail all the way.

The first of the favorites to score was Go Foin in the second. He was roundly surprised, so much backing going to him near post time that the price on him receded sharply. It was a wise choice the public made, for Go Foin made most of the running and looked to be pounds the best as he galloped his way home easily. Bill Offynn was close enough up to grab second money, but never threatened the leader. Champlain was the one that made the most desperate bid, but ran himself out on the turn and was back in third place at the finish.

Victory for Allen. The third found still another race that the public fancied rather to the front early and outstaying his rivals throughout the late running. It was E. E. Major's 6-year-old Allen, and he beat out Brother John and Everglade. Redmond had shared the public's attention with the winner, but he didn't like the spinny going and was always far out of it. The talent scored heavily again as the program was brought to a close on Miller II's victory. He had been accorded almost as much support as Wingfield and came in to win in a driving stretch battle from Richelieu and Pud.

Riviera Stable Disposes
of 21 Horses for $107,950

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 19.—Twenty-one horses sold by the Riviera stable today brought $107,950. W. St. Con bought the two-year-old colt Lord, a half brother to Baby Grand, for $25,100. The yearling filly by China Cook, which was donated to the Church of the Good Shepherd, of Lexington, Ky., was sold for $4,600. The sum will help erect a new church.

Sande Improves, but Will Remain in Bed for 8 Weeks

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 19.—[Special.]—Earl Sande, America's greatest jockey, who was seriously injured by a fall in a race early in the morning of the Saratoga season, is progressing splendidly at the Saratoga hospital. It was said tonight that Sande will remain in bed at least eight weeks longer.

POLO GAMES AT
N. SHORE FAIR

Followers of the turf are promised a real program when the North Shore Jockey club holds its nine day running meeting at the North Shore polo track in connection with the Chicago Carnival Industrial Exposition, Aug. 30 to Sept. 7.

One of the daily preliminaries to the thoroughbred races will be a polo contest. These games featuring a tournament, will bring into action some of the best polo clubs in the west. Among other of the polo features will be matches between western teams. The Detroit polo four, composed of the clearest girl riders in the country will headline the show in two exhibitions.

On days when the polo teams are not in action entries in the Society Horse Show will be paraded for the turf enthusiasts. Many horses now racing at Hawthorne will appear to the North Shore track before the opening.

OUTSIDER RUNS OFF WITH CIRCUIT STAKE

Cleveland, O., Aug. 19.—[By Associated Press.]—Under a masterful drive by Harry Stokes, Springfield, O., Col. Midwell surprised the talent by capturing the Cleveland $1,000 purse feature of today's Grand Circuit program here, in straight heats from a field of eleven 2:37 pacers.

The Col. Forrest-Dolly Bicknell gelding was forced to stop the last half of the second heat in 2:31.5 and the final quarter in 2:31.5 to win the second heat from Thomas W. Marbury's Baron Worthy, heavily played favorite, which led until the stretch turn.

Ribbon Cane, pacesetter in the first, also was unable to withstand Col. Midwell's challenge in the stretch. Baron Worthy was an easy winner over Ribbon Cane and Sparkle in the consolation.

Ruby Hall made it two victories out of three starts when she captured the 2:17 trot, in which she was favorite. She never left the issue in doubt, winning in straight heats. Summaries:

The Code of Death

~the most thrilling mystery story in years
by the Celebrated Author, BEN HECHT

Starts In This Week's Liberty [Out Today]

THE AUTHOR

His power to lead you to the scene, to make you a participant in the event—his writings as war correspondent, as author of "The Flamingo Dagger," and "1001 Afternoons," have made Ben Hecht one of the literary lights of our day.

Tides of human emotions lapping her very frontiers. Strife. Lust for power. Political ghouls picking over the ruins of Germania, crashed asunder. Treason, guile sitting astride the high places, and still, aloft of it all, restless and tender, rides a new and ardent love in all its pristine beauty.

Such is the fertile field from which Mr. Hecht has drawn his astonishing spectacle—The Code of Death. The super-thriller! Beginning serially in this week's Liberty. Out today.

No matter what kind of a story you like, here is a new one—packed full of enthralling interest. Adventure. Mystery. Conspiracy. Fiery love—every emotion of man and woman racing unleashed across every page.

Do you know what is going on behind the scenes in Germany? Are its new leaders friends or foes of the Fatherland? What are the evil forces feverishly at work gnawing away even the feeble strength of the infant Republic? Who are the conspirators hiding behind the proud crest of the Black Eagle?

Perhaps no event in history has offered such a rich opportunity for the author. To Mr. Hecht it has been veritable clay—to mold at will. He was "on the spot." He stops at nothing. Thrill upon thrill. Cunning. Scheming. Rascality. Revolution, new and more terrible. Patriots turned traitors. Today's hero, tomorrow's nobody. Tradersmen presidents. Intrigue. Terror. Fervent love! Betrayal. Death. Stunning!!

Imagine Kora, beautiful wife of the President, condemned by him to be shot three months after their marriage. Stand with Ben Hecht in the marble labyrinths of Wilhelmstrasse. Imperial splendor and glory are empty houses, tarnished and hollow. Grandeur. Pride. Power. All fallen into the pigmy's lap. Men laugh without knowing why. Then shudder at this upheaval—fate's new playlet!

The Code of Death is fiction based on fact. It is easily the most stirring serial story in years. It is absolutely new—never before published. Written expressly for Liberty readers.

Borrow the five cents if you must, but don't fail to read this amazing story from start to finish, beginning in this week's Liberty. Out Today.

A Blouse of Blue Crepe with Unusual Closing

by Corinne Lowe

NEW YORK.—(Special Correspondence.)—This young person is engaged in the quietest act of faking up the mustlet for the tailored blouse. Of course, nothing—unless it be Niagara Falls—is quite so little in need of defense. Moreover, the slight fullness at the belt, the deep scoops, and side fastenings are features that deviate somewhat from the strict interpretation of tailored mode. To wear gauntlet gloves with short sleeves is to conform to a vogue as smart as it is striking.

Several new notes are struck by importations of fall blouses. Many of them show round and collarless neck lines, and long sleeves predominate. Braid and stitching offer color contrast and sometimes produce an effect of formality for the costume. Many side fastenings are observed, but it is more usual to find this device in the tunic which is slipped on over the head.

As the new season approaches it is evident that the tunic is to lose nothing of its prestige. Crêpe de chine, satin,

The last few days, Pat, our neighbor's child, has insisted on playing with the older boys.

One day I said to him: "Now, Pat, you should play with the younger boys."

"O, no," he said, "I'm a young man now. I wear your men's under- wear."

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

Reversing the Surprise.

There is only one girl besides myself in the law office where I am working. We had been acting foolish all morning, giggling at every trifling thing.

She left the room saying, "Don't shut the door, old dear, 'cause I'm just going to shoot this letter down and then I shall return!"

Instantly I thought of a brilliant idea. I could hear her steps in the hall and I was going to jump out from behind the door and scare her when she entered.

To my astonishment when I jumped out from behind the door I grabbed an elderly man—one of our clients. Jane was behind him and she just reared until she couldn't any more.

All So Unnecessary.

I am absent minded.

One spring I visited friends in another city. I noticed a veranda full of screens and decided that I would be of assistance in removing them to the garage. I spent the afternoon at my self-appointed task.

At the dinner table I told my host what I had done.

"That so?" he said. "I had just brought them down this morning. I was going to put them up tonight."

Glad and Sorry.

We had a new car, and as all new owners do, we polished and brushed each speck of dust from its shiny surface. I had been told old silk was

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.
Time Temperature Roast Beef.

The temperature controlled oven is becoming as much a necessity with the housewife as it has long been with the baker. Having absolute confidence in the head of the research kitchen maintained by the first of these ovens to be exploited, I am giving below a brief summary of her excellent methods for roasting beef. As she says, the tougher cuts like shoulder, rump, and round, can only be roasted when they are to be cooked until well done.

The first process is searing the meat, and this may be continued for 20 minutes in a 500 degree oven or for 30 in a 450 degree oven. After that a less than 4 pound roast is cooked for 30 minutes for each pound of meat at a 300 degree temperature. If the meat weighs from 4 to 5 pounds 30 minutes is allowed at a 275 degree temperature, after the 10 or 15 minutes of searing. If it weighs 10 pounds or more it is cooked at a 250 degree temperature with 30 minutes for each pound of meat after the searing. If you remember, some of the old books direct 15 minutes per pound regardless. Weight of bone as well as meat is included.

But for rare beef in a covered pan with a 500 degree temperature, only 12 minutes per pound is allowed. For medium beef at the same temperature 15 minutes a pound is allowed for each pound. For well done in a covered pan with a 300 degree temperature 20 minutes to each pound is allowed. In an uncovered pan with a 300 degree temperature these meats are allowed.

Roasting beef, you see, is a science in itself. It is, indeed, an excellent and economy are the

RAINS AND PROFIT TAKING FEATURES OF GRAIN MART

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Long wheat and corn came out freely throughout the day, although there was a strong upturn in corn at one time on aggressive buying, induced by a bad storm over Illinois and Iowa.

The close was at net losses of 3 1/2¢ on wheat, with corn off 1/4¢ to 1/2¢ and rye 1 1/4¢. Oats showed independent strength and gained 1/4¢. Wheat had a range of 20¢ for the day with the market decidedly unsettled. At no time were values above the finish of the previous day, and all bulges met with increased pressure, with the close about the bottom. September finished at 11.35 to 11.37, December at 11.33 to 11.35, and May at 11.31 to 11.33.

Export Demand Slow.

There was a noticeable lack of export demand, and only scattered parcels were sold at the seaboard and Gulf, with an aggregate of 200,000 bu. for the day. The prospective liberal movement in spring wheat in the American northwest is counting against the market, although northwestern markets showed relatively more strength. On Chicago, the other hand, Winnipeg was weak and 3/4¢ higher.

A big trade was in corn within a range of 30¢ for the day. In September, which showed more strength than the new crop deliveries, due in part to buying of the September and selling of December to close spreads. At one time during the day September was only 3/4¢ over December, compared with around 2 1/2¢ earlier in the season.

Forecast was for unsettled but warmer weather over the greater part of the belt, with a hot wave expected, temperatures getting up to 100 in Nebraska on Monday. September here closed at 11.22, December at 11.17 to 11.19, and May at 11.15 to 11.17. Yellow corn on spot was firmer at 2 1/2¢ over September, with receipts 47 cars. It is estimated that 6,000,000 bu. Argentine corn has been bought to come to North America so far at a price materially under domestic, including the duty of 15¢ per bushel.

Fear Damage to Oats.

Continued wet weather is causing increasing fear of damage to the new crop, and with aggressive buying of December by houses with eastern connections that delivery advanced to 50¢, a new high on the crop. The finish was at 17 1/2¢, the closing break being largely in sympathy with other grains.

Rye was easy in sympathy with wheat. Trade was fair with a good class of buying in evidence on the decline. The lack of aggressive export business is also counting against the market.

Provision Market Firmer.

Provisions were somewhat firmer early, but eased off toward the last with grains and closed 5/8¢ lower to 1/2¢ higher on hard with bulges unchanged and ribs 3/4¢ changed to 7/8¢ higher. Liverpool lard was 3/4¢ to 1 1/2¢ lower. Prices follow:
